- Q. Can I store clothes in the plastic bags provided by the cleaners?
- A. Plastic does not breathe and can therefore trap in moisture, which deposits on to your garments. The cleaners, to provide protection for the garments during transportation from the store, provide these bags. Clothes should be stored in a cool, dry, well-ventilated area. Never store clothes in a garage or attic.
- Q. How important is it to follow the care labels?
- A. Following the care labels on each garment is very important. These labels are provided by the manufacturer to ensure the best possible care for your garment, going against these instructions could cause irreversible damage to your clothes.
- Q. Will dry cleaning shrink my clothes?
- A. The dry cleaning process is carefully controlled by a professionally trained cleaner. Improper preshrinking by the manufacturer usually causes excessive shrinkage.
- Q. Does frequent dry cleaning shorten the life of a garment?
- A. On the contrary, frequent cleaning prolongs the life of a garment. Not only do stains set with age, but ground in dirt and soil act as an abrasive causing the rapid wear of fibers. In addition, insects are attracted to soiled clothes and can cause further damage.
- Q. Why can the cleaners not remove all stains?
- A. Even the best cleaners cannot remove certain stains. The nature and age of the stain, plus the color and construction of the fabric sometimes make stains impossible to remove without damage to the garment.

Q. Should I use hairspray to remove a ballpoint ink stain?

A. Hairspray and water can remove ballpoint ink, but you may be trading one problem for another. That's because hairspray could contain alcohol and oils such as resins and lanolin. The alcohol in the hairspray can cause color damage especially on silk; likewise, oils and other ingredients could lead to additional stains.

Q. If I get a bad stain on my clothes, what should I do?

A. While there are readily available stain removers on the market, take extra care when using them. Depending on the fabric and color of your clothing, using these popular remedies may cause more harm than good. Let our expertly trained staff know about your stain and we'll do our very best to make your garment look new again. We pride ourselves in our ability to remove the tough stains in your clothes.
